THE HERO'S JOURNEY FOR LEADERS

Leadership Agility: Leading into the Future of Work

Today's business leaders are challenged to find ways to enable their organization's success in the face of inevitable change. The pace of market and technology advancements brings both obstacles and opportunity. But legacy business practices, values and attitudes aren't sufficiently adaptable to provide the needed speed and responsiveness. As more organizations recognize the potential of Agility to transform the Future of Work – the imperative for leaders to develop greater Leadership Agility grows.

This highly experiential, in-depth course focuses on leadership through the lens of agility.
From the perspective of Personal Agility – how do Agile Leaders think, act and grow? In terms of Relationship Agility – how do Agile Leaders build constructive, vibrant relationships with individuals and Agile teams through social awareness, human systems thinking and great communication? And at the organizational level -what role does Leadership Agility play in catalyzing and sustaining the transformation of the Legacy Work World towards the Future of Work? Through facilitated discussions, peer-to-peer conversation, and interactive exercises - participants will complete this course with a renewed vision of the potential of the Future of Work and an action plan to help lead the way.
